Seeking more leverage:

Bethel board reopens pipeline application

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Planning Board has decided to give more thought to the application for an underground natural gas pipeline through the town.

On April 16 the board rejected an application by the Portland Natural Gas Transmission System to install 13.5 miles of pipeline through Bethel, but at its meeting last week board members agreed unanimously to reopen consideration of the application.

The move to continue debating the matter was largely a tactical maneuver intended to maximize the town's very limited leverage with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, which has final say on if and where the pipeline will be built.

At the earlier meeting two members had voted to approve the application, but with a number of conditions, which they hoped FERC would note and enforce.

But four members opted instead to reject the application outright.

After further consideration, however, and discussion with the town attorney regarding what conditions the board could and could not stipulate, some member of the earlier majority had second thoughts about the rejection, board chairman Reggie Brown said last week.

Brown, who had been one of the four members voting earlier to reject the application, said that for himself, "I decided the conditions were just as good as a no vote."

Safety concerns were the primary factor behind the initial rejection, and they were still on the board's mind last week.

But the town's attorney has pointed out that safety is not addressed in the town's Site Plan

Jeepers welcomed here

• Annual jamboree this weekend

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Maine Mountains Jeep Jamboree --130 jeeps strong -- is coming to town for the ninth time this weekend. And the considerate treatment area landowners enjoy from the jeeps has created an atmosphere that continues to attract the maximum number of jeeps allowed -- as well as encourages the local club to grow.

In a time when many landowners are hesitant to let recreationists use their land for hiking, biking, ATV and jeep-users, Western Maine Mountain Jeepers, Inc. has property owners asking the jeeps to ride on their trails.

"Word got around that we fix things up," said Geoff Gaudreau, the club's president.

Fix things up so well, in fact, that

"it's easier for the landowners to let us use the land, and fix it, than take care of it themselves," he said.

Landowner Joan Kimball of Albany will testify to that.

"It gives us better access to our own property -- they keep the (old logging) roads open," she said.

Kimball and her family have now joined the club and go jeeping themselves, too.

Dan Davis of Bethel has also let the jeeps use a trail across 100 acres of his land. "They do a real good job," he said. "If they mess it up, they go back and smooth it out."

The jeep club started about five years ago with about 20 families -- and has grown to 65 to 70 today.

"It's growing fast," said

And WES wants your junkers

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Woodstock Elementary School's fifth grade will take a class trip to Saco next month -- thanks in part to a bunch of old cars.

The youngsters won't be riding in the cars, but money donated from the sale of the junkers will help finance a day-long visit to the Maine Aquarium and Fun Town.

The 16 students have themselves been raising money for the outing through bottle drives and other fundraisers.

The idea to ask people to donate old cars came from Thomas "Bo" Warner of Greenwood, whose daughter Shelby is in the class.

Warner, who owns Greenwood Towing company, suggested the project earlier this year as an idea for fundraising in general.

Shelby remembered it when the time came to plan the trip.

"She asked me if I was serious about it," Warner said. "I said, 'Sure, let's get together (with school officials) and talk about it.'"

Warner offered to tow old cars for junk and donate the money to the trip fund. Each car goes for about $10 or $15.

So far, five cars have been donated.

"People don't think about what they're going to do with an old Pinto that's been sitting in the yard for 20 years," said Warner. "This makes it (getting rid of cars) hassle-free for them."

Anyone interested in donating a car can call 665-2228.

Erosion halts Jordan Bowl road work

Frost, rains, clay slides, and road construction muddy Sunday River

By MICHAEL DANIELS

A team from the Maine Department of Environmental Protection was scheduled to be in Newry and Riley yesterday (Tuesday) to inspect erosion problems along a 3.5-mile road being constructed by Sunday River Ski Resort.

Following last week's heavy rains, sediment from the project turned the Sunday River a milky brown color.

The erosion, which has stalled construction activity on the road, was reported to the DEP by the skiway itself.

"They didn't try to cover it up," said Will Cook, an environmental specialist in the DEP's Land Bureau. "They self reported, said they were having some problems and were doing as much as they could to mediate them."

Following the skiway's call, Cook said, the DEP received "an awful lot of complaints," from others about the discoloration of the river.

According to skiway spokesman Mike Bertie, once the erosion problems were discovered construction on the road was halted and crews from both the contractor and skiway worked solely on the erosion situation -- in the process spreading 18,000 bales of hay.

The general contractor for the road and for the site work at the new Jordan Bowl Hotel is Alvin J. Coleman Co. of Conway N.H.

Company president Buzz Coleman said Tuesday that road construction is not expected to resume until after the current spell of wet weather.

AWD and PUC to EPA: Back off

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Andover Water District is appealing to the Environmental Protection Agency to drop -- or at least lower -- a $20,000 fine it is seeking against the district for not complying with the Safe Drinking Water Act. The Maine Public Utilities Commission is also asking EPA to suspend litigation in the matter.

The EPA, however, says not penalizing AWD would be unfair to districts that have complied.

Anne Glazier, AWD trustee, said the EPA wants her board to sign a consent decree that would lay out a schedule for compliance with the Safe Drinking Water Act -- and assess a $20,000 penalty for the delay to date in complying.

Such a fine would result in a charge of $164 for each user -- a 40 percent rate increase if collected in one year, according to the Maine Public Utilities Commission.

The district has been under the threat of penalty since 1993, when it was told by the EPA to come up with an acceptable drinking water system. The 122 users are currently served by water from an open reservoir that does not comply with SDWA standards.

The district is in the process of looking for a new water source on the Susan Ricker property, near the center of town.

Technically, the EPA could penalize the district $25,000 a day since June of 1993 -- the deadline for compliance. But, said Glazier, in practice the agency generally assesses smaller penalties.

She said AWD wants to negotiate the fine to something less than $10,000. Even that, she said, "is still exorbitant relative to what EPA has assessed in relationship to Fortune 500 companies, as well as larger water-sewer districts."

She said AWD has looked at 20 other cases in which fines were imposed, comparing the fines to the company or district's annual revenue and coming up with a percentage.

Using that method, Glazier said, AWD should receive a fine of about $18, based on its annual revenue of about $60,000.

Bad timing

Regardless of what is eventually worked out, Glazier and others associated with AWD want the EPA to back off in its pursuit of a consent decree and the fine until progress can be made on a new water source. Dealing with the decree -- and the schedule for compliance --

BLIND OBEDIENCE

To the Editor:

I'm beginning to wonder whether or not Mr. Murphy actually reads and contemplates the ideas I express. He seems caught up in evaluating my personality and making wild speculations about who I am.

In my last letter I referred to the Dred Scott case to shed some light on the property rights issue we are debating. There is a precedent in this country that suggests if enough people express a desire for change they can make it legislation regardless of a small minority's vested interests. The good of the whole over the prosperity of the individual!

We live in a country with states, counties, towns, neighborhoods and neighbors; we need compromise not stubbornness to solve our problems.

Mr. Murphy has created a small, confusing and ambiguous story to illustrate the effects of clearcutting. Whether intentionally or inadvertently, he has suggested that three out of 10 landowners will lose their jobs as a result of a clearcutting ban. We should all question Mr. Murphy's personal feelings in this somewhat earnest attempt at simplifying the issues. Has Mr. Murphy consulted the "facts" and "studies" to develop this pseudo-study?

I am sorry to see Mr. Murphy admitting that he "blindly" obeys anything. In his distorted view of patriotism, Mr. Murphy is helping the country forget what independent thought is. Mr. Murphy needs to consult history so he is not doomed to repeat it.

Who remembers radicals like Samuel Adams, Thomas Paine and Ben Franklin -- characters essential to the Revolution? These "patriots" were independent thinkers not people that were blindly obedient to British law.

Long, costly legal battles sometimes need to be fought, if enough people are behind them.

A SUPER IDEA

To the Editor:

Commitment is a word that our society shies away from. In fact, due to the loose fabric of our morals and ethics' structure, the word commitment is almost absolute. By-products of this lack is a huge burden on the backs of women in our country. Many women work outside the home (sometimes at more than one job) and then rush home to the responsibility of bearing their children's needs -- both physical and emotional with little or no support from a husband or ex-husband.

Enter the Promise Keepers. Their goal is to encourage men to keep their promises to their wives and families. To be a faithful partner, to love them, to care for them, to care for their children with shared responsibilities, to provide physical and emotional support, to stay with them through good and bad. All of that brings to the relationship a strong commitment which translates into a strong family unit. It gives a positive role model to the children.

The Promise Keepers base their program on God's Word and are not ashamed to meet together to praise God with one voice and to learn how to be the men God would have them to be; such as loving their wives as much as they love themselves (Ephesians 6:28). If men did this, we'd have a little bit of heaven right here on earth. Sounds like a super idea to me.

MISQUOTATIONS AND DISTORTIONS

To the Editor:

Upon reading the three responses (April 23) to my letter regarding the Promise Keepers, I was astonished to discover the elementary means by which Deven Andrews, Lisa Farrar-Fox, and Nancy Hansen chose to relay their messages. It is unfortunate to say, however, it does not seem as though these people were capable of understanding my ideas.

Mr. Andrews resorted to sarcasm-ridden preaching in an attempt to invalidate my letter. Consequently, causticity should be left in grade school, and preaching should be left to the confines of our respective places of worship. Furthermore, Mr. Andrews misquoted from my initial letter three times. In so doing, he distorted my words to suit his purposes.

Farrar-Fox and Hansen both accused me of being misinformed. One even suggested that I collect my information from tabloids! This accusation I did have to chuckle at. Nonetheless, I do owe thanks to these women. They have served as wonderful aids in helping me solidify my ideas about the Promise Keepers.

Ms. Farrar-Fox admits that she is indeed being forced into a "gender mold." Though she is not threatened by this, she does not deny its existence. Are people made to be thrust into socially created molds? What frightens us so about individual growth and independent thought?

Ms. Hansen, another "Promise Keeper's wife," states of her husband, "I help him create his workplace." I ask of Ms. Hansen, do you not have your own workplace to create? Is it not important to shine a bit of light on yourself -- your own intellectual and mental development?

Not one of the three responses addressed the core of my argument. Labeling the Promise Keepers as a "Women's Movement" is deviant propaganda. It is not an organization which encourages women to attain positions of power. Contrastingly, the Promise Keepers are seeking a return to the past. Women have progressed too much to support such ideas. Women are here to stand on equal ground with men: both inside and outside of the home. I have little doubt that the Promise Keepers would cringe at such a thought.

To appease some of fact seekers, I will note that support groups have been sprouting nationwide to assist women in adjusting to their subordinate positions. To name a few: Heritage Keepers, Suitable Helpers, and Women of Faith. Why are those necessary? Tabloid information this is not.

For all of the love and goodness the Promise Keepers preach about, it baffles me that people cannot simply find honesty and purity in their own spirits.

WIVES, SUBMIT TO YOUR HUSBANDS

To the Editor:

I am in full agreement with Pastor Mowery's statement of Promise Keepers whose idea is to build up family values.

Kiersten A. McGettrick's argument I fully understand. However, it has no biblical basis. God's Word is very specific regarding women's position to her husband and his love for her and the children.

Basically, it is love for each other. It all goes back to Adam and Eve. (Genesis 2:15): "It was the woman that was deceived by Satan." (Timothy 2:11): "...and she should be in full submission to her husband..." (Ephesians 5:22): "Wives submit to your husbands." Verse 27: "For the husband is the head of the house, to love their wives, respect them and live with them till death."

That's the pledge of Promise Keepers.

COMMUNITY LEADERS' FORUM

To the Editor:

The Community Leaders' Forum scheduled for the evening of May 13 at 7 p.m. at Crescent Park School is an opportunity to meet fellow volunteers in all phases of community life. In sponsoring the event the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce hopes to promote the notion of the expanding community and to look at all SAD44 towns as included in that community.

I hope everyone will consider having a representative of their church, scout organization, craft group, trails club, environmental group, service club, etc., attend the gathering. From it will come a better understanding of who is doing what in the community, a comprehensive calendar of events, and a data base that will be maintained by the chamber and published for residents and newcomers to help them to "plug in" to community life.

We are a small community in terms of population yet we support some 75 different interest groups. Let's work together for the benefit of all.

DARE THANKS

To the Editor:

We would like to express our thanks to everyone who donated to Project DARE and who attended the Benefit Basketball Game. After all was said and done we were able to raise $2,500. We were able to pay for our '97 graduation and also have the funds for the upcoming school year to cover DARE costs.

A special thank you to all of the volunteers, Sgt. Darren Tripp and his team of players for all their help with the DARE graduation and the basketball game. These functions would not have been possible without their support.

We would also like to let everyone know that at this time we will be handing over the fundraising part of the DARE program to Ellie Lewis of Bryant Pond. We feel that a new coordinator and committee of volunteers will be beneficial to the DARE program. We want to thank each and every person and business that has supported us over the last 10 years, Jackson-Silver Post for their benefit bingo games, Bethel Inn and The Backstage for meeting places, SAD44 for the use of the Bus Garage for car washes, Preb's for donations of thank-you cards. The list is endless. Their support made it possible.

Anyone who is interested in further supporting the DARE Project is asked to contact Ellie Lewis at 665-2578 and get involved in a project that is so important to our youth and community.

FROM THE

Bethel Water District

May 4 through 10 is National Safe Drinking Water Week.

The Bethel Water District operates two water systems. The larger serves Bethel village with water from Chapman Brook. The smaller serves West Bethel from two drilled wells west of the Flat Road.

Generally the most important question when people think about drinking water is, "Is it safe?" Yes it is. Last year the district spent almost $6,000 on tests by outside labs confirming the safety of the water on both systems. Some of these tests check for only one thing. Others, for example the volatile organics test, will detect any of a long list of similar chemicals. In all cases the water has met the required standards with substantial safety margins.

There are also a few tests done for things that are being considered for regulation but are not yet regulated. These have generally served to eliminate possible concerns. Only two items of uncertainty remain at present. The first of these is cryptosporidium, a microscopic animal much like giardia. Unfortunately, there are no tests available which will tell how safe the water is in this regard. It is believed that a water with very low giardia levels such as Bethel's will also have little risk from cryptosporidium. This will remain a concern until a way to reliably assure its safety is found. West Bethel's wells should be essentially risk free in this regard.

The other uncertainty concerns chlorate, a byproduct of the chlorine used for disinfection in Bethel. Until very recently this was only known to exist in systems using a different disinfectant, chlorine dioxide. Tests have shown concentrations in the hundred-parts-per-billion range in Bethel's water. This is encouraging, but a safe level has not officially been determined.

While West Bethel is untouched by these concerns, it has been plagued by nuisance levels of iron. This appears on rare occasions as reddish water. This problem appeared following the troubles with the pump in the district's original drilled well for West Bethel. Drilling a second well and replacing the pump in the original well eliminated the water shortages which had occurred in West Bethel. The water remains safe at all times, but is certainly less desirable than it used to be.

Fire protection is another concern of many people. The Bethel Village system met the needs expected when it was constructed in 1890. It generally continued to follow recommended guidelines until they were more than doubled, as reflected in the 1972 ISO "Guide for Determination of Required Fire Flow." In 1978 the district began making improvements to follow the new standards. New pipes were laid on part of Paradise Road, on Crescent Street, and on Mason Street. These more than offset the effects of age on the system, and provided a significant increase in flow to most areas.

The contract awarded to Jack Cross to construct new mains on the remainder of Paradise Road, Broad Street, and Mason Street will complete the new 12-inch main. When finished this will extend from the district's Paradise Hill reservoir, through the center of the village, and through the Bethel Station Development. The completed line will more than double the flow of water for fighting fires in most areas.

Anyone wanting more detailed information is invited to contact the Bethel Water District at 824-2342.

Hot News Tip? --Call 824-2444

Briefly

Pipeline comes to Greenwood

GREENWOOD--A proposal to build a 2.5 mile section of natural gas pipeline in Greenwood was presented to the Planning Board Monday. The 12-inch diameter pipe would cut across the northwest corner of town as part of a spur carrying gas to Rumford and Jay. A portion of the line would run along Route 35, and would be wholly within the road's right of way, according to Portland Natural Gas Transmission System attorney Bill Shields. It would run between two and eight feet off the edge of the pavement, he said. The only private land the line would cross would be a section belonging to P.H. Chadbourne & Co. Shields said PNGTS is currently dealing with Chadbourne regarding permission issues. Abutters have been notified by letter. The board is expected to visit the location of the proposed line May 18, and consider the plan further at its May 19 meeting.

Help requested for roadside cleanup

BETHEL--The annual Route 26 roadside cleanup, organized by R.S. McMillan VFW Post 11363, will take place Saturday, May 10. Anyone interested in helping out is invited to meet at Davis Park at 8:30 a.m. Safety vests and plastic bags will be provided by the Maine Department of Transportation.

Sunday River P.O. is a go

NEWRY--A contract was scheduled to be signed Friday between the U.S. Postal Service and the Royal River Development Co. of Windham to build the new Sunday River Road Post Office. Royal River proposed to build a 2,000-square-foot building on property it would buy from Mary Morin. The developers are also considering building another structure nearby, to house a convenience store. The contract will give Royal River six months to complete the building, but it is expected to open in three or four months.

Get your burning permit

BETHEL--Fire Chief Jim Young offers a spring reminder that anyone burning logs, stumps, roots, brush, slash, fields of dry grass, pasture, blueberry land or debris is required by law to obtain a burning permit from the local fire department. Guidelines for safe burning include: burn after 5 p.m.; have adequate help and equipment to control a fire; never leave a fire unattended (it's illegal). Permits are also required for incinerators, which should have solid sides, a cover, and be placed in the middle of a 10-foot diameter circle cleared to mineral soil.

Newry cleans up; office closed Tues.

NEWRY--The annual Clean Up Day in Newry is scheduled for June 7 and 8. Residents may bring brown and white goods, construction debris, and metal to Sunday River Ski Resort's parking lot #5 for disposal. No household trash or toxic waste, please. The Newry Town Office will be closed Tuesday while employees attend Tax Collectors' School.

Free skiing, boarding at Sunday River

NEWRY--Sunday River Resort will close for skiing and snowboarding on Sunday, May 11. Lift tickets will be free of charge on that day, but every guest must have a ticket. With the closing of its winter operations, the resort is making final preparations for its summer operations. The Sunday River Mountain Bike Park is scheduled to open Saturday, May 24. The resort also offers hiking, canoeing and fly-fishing.

Great Ponds bring tourist dollars

ORONO--Tourist activities associated with Maine's Great Ponds generate about $269 million in annual expenditures and support as many jobs as Bath Iron Works, according to a new report from the University of Maine Water Research Institute. Direct expenditures by all lake users, including Maine citizens, amount to about $1.8 billion. The report was produced for the state's Great Pond Task Force, which was directed by the state Legislature to create a Great Pond Strategic Management Plan. Great ponds are natural lakes larger than 10 acres or dammed water bodies larger than 30 acres. Drinking water accounts for the largest use in terms of user-days per year, with 104 million, and recreation is a distant second at 12.7 million user days. The 50-page report is available by mail for $5 from the Department of Resource Economics and Policy, 5782 Winslow Hall, University of Maine, Orono, ME 04469-5782.

Canadian co. seeks pipeline extension

PORTLAND--TransQuebec & Maritime Pipeline has submitted an application to Canada's National Energy Board for the construction of a 213-kilometer extension of its system that will provide an interconnection between the Portland Natural Gas Transmission System and TransCanada PipeLines. The extension will run from Lachenaie, Quebec to the U.S./Canada border at Pittsburg, N.H. The extension will provide PNGTS's customers with access to western Canadian and domestic gas supplies delivered into New England through TransCanada PipeLines. The project is expected to be placed in service by Nov. 1, 1998.

Celebrate Maine wetlands in May

AUGUSTA--May is Wetlands Month in Maine and across the U.S., a time when conservation organizations and agencies schedule special events and offer nature walks to heighten people's awareness of the value of wetlands. Maine has more than 5 million acres of wetlands, including marshes, bogs, vernal pools, freshwater and coastal marsh complexes. Throughout May, Maine residents and visitors have an opportunity to participate in wetland-related events or visit wetlands at one of the state's many natural areas. Electric vehicles coming to N.H.

CONWAY, N.H.--The U.S. road rally championship for electric vehicles will pass through the Mt. Washington Valley for the first time this year. On May 22 nearly 50 electric and solar-powered cars, vans, and other vehicles will pull into North Conway. They will be on public display from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The tour, known as the NESEA American Tour de Sol, is now in its ninth year. It includes a number of competitive events built around a 350-mile, week-long road rally on public secondary roads through the Northeastern United States. This year's race begins in Waterbury, Conn., and ends in Portland, Maine, after traveling through Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire. Vehicles receive prizes for greatest range (distance traveled without recharging), efficiency (miles per equivalent gallon of gasoline) and consumer acceptability.

Pleasant Mt. to get tower?

DENMARK--United States Cellular is applying for a permit for a 300-foot-tall wireless communications tower on the south slope of Pleasant Mountain. The tower would be located about a half-mile away from a fire lookout tower and a Central Maine Power tower, at a level of approximately 1,900 feet. Standard Federal Aviation Administration regulations on such a tower require one blinking red light on the top, and small lights on each leg half way down. The Planning Board will consider the proposal at a meeting later this month.

Businesses leave Main St., Norway

NORWAY--Several stores are leaving their location on Main St., with some going to new quarters on Fair Street (Route 26). Reasons cited by merchants included lack of customer parking on Main Street, poor driving visibility, poor maintenance of current facilities, lack of public restrooms. None of the merchants said they were leaving because they disliked Main Street itself.

From the Bethel Police log:

Orange glow was legit

On May 4 at 12:13 a.m. a caller asked that police meet him at the Big Apple regarding a suspicious sighting. On arrival the complainant reported that while on his way home he observed an orange glow on the ridge line just south of Bethel, near Route 26. He said it appeared to be a bonfire. Two game wardens then stopped and asked the officer if he needed help. A warden's vehicle was used to go to the scene, where two people were found burning a brush pile. They said they were preparing a camp site for later in the year. Police confirmed they had a valid burn permit and then left.

Thursday, May 1

At 4:30 a.m. a caller asked police to meet him at the Big Apple regarding unwanted subjects at a residence on Route 2. On arrival police were told by the complainant that there had been a large party at a house on Route 2, and there were three intoxicated subjects who refused to leave. Further investigation showed the renters of the residence were there along with several others. When the officer arrived at the residence he found everything quiet and no signs of problems. Because there had been no calls from the renters or anyone else who would legally control the property, and by the complainant's own statement the three were friends of the renters, no further action was taken.

Friday, May 2

At 12:30 a.m. a resident reported there were two subjects outside her residence arguing. She said it sounded like two females. While en route to the scene the officer spoke with two female pedestrians whom he observed walking from the area. They said they had just left a friend's house and they had heard a male and female arguing. The officer then found a male and a female in a parked vehicle. Both denied having any problem. Due to lack of further evidence the officer departed.

Saturday, May 3

At 6:14 p.m. a resident reported that while parked on Cross Street he was told a subject had removed the two rear valve stem covers from his vehicle. Police planned to contact the subject in order to see the covers would be returned without further legal action. Failure to return them will result in criminal charges. The covers were valued at $10.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

Review Ordinance; and, therefore, cannot be a factor in Planning Board deliberations.

The concerns raised by the board, and by abutters opposed to the project, do appear to have already had one positive outcome. John Flumerfelt, director of public affairs for PNGTS, told the board last week that the developers are willing to upgrade the thickness of the pipe on the Bethel lateral.

There are four grades of pipe thickness, Flumerfelt said, ranging from Grade 1, used in totally remote locations, to Grade 4, which would be used in urban areas, or "an assumed density of population of four-story buildings all the way down the road."

The upgrading, he said, was "in a spirit of cooperation and response to the concerns we've heard about safety."

The board is expected to continue its discussion the pipeline project at its next meeting, on May 14.

is in itself slowing down compliance, they said.

The commissioners of the state Public Utilities Commission are among those asking EPA to back off for now.

In a move described by a Public Advocates Office official as "a rare thing," the commissioners sent a letter to the EPA's Washington office protesting the timing of the enforcement action.

"It shows the PUC is closely watching what the district is doing and is supportive in its efforts to keep costs down," said Bill Black of the PAO.

The letter said that although the AWD trustees have "acted quickly to move construction (of a new water system) forward, EPA litigation counsel has ignored the District's pleas to let it focus on the project rather than on the negotiation of a consent decree. As a result, the District has incurred more than $10,000 in legal fees in negotiations over the issue of a penalty and a schedule for compliance.

"Forcing this small consumer-owned utility to spend its limited resources on litigation can only push the District toward financial collapse. Such a result would not advance the goals of the Safe Drinking Water Act. For these reasons we urge the EPA to suspend its litigation with the district."

EPA replies

Gregory Kennan, senior litigation counsel, is representing the EPA on the issue. To him, seeking a penalty from AWD is a matter of fairness. "There are a number of districts that have complied with the regulations without having to be issued administrative orders," he said. "It wouldn't be fair to those that have complied without this level of involvement by EPA," he said.

Kennan said it was the Maine Department of Human Services that asked EPA to issue an administrative order for SDWA compliance. That was in June of 1994.

As for AWD's argument that it would be fined out of proportion to its annual revenue, Kennan said, "We have heard their arguments and taken them into account, but we have not yet agreed on an appropriate penalty."

Kennan was asked to comment on AWD's complaint that negotiating a schedule of compliance was distracting the district from focusing on the very project that would bring it into compliance.

"They've made spurts of progress in the past and not complied," he said -- thus demonstrating the need for a schedule.

In addition to a potential fine for not abiding by the SDWA regulations, AWD could technically be fined up to $25,000 a day for failure to abide by the 1994 administrative order, said Kennan.

The annual meeting of the Andover Water District is expected to be scheduled for late May. Glazier said trustees hope to have more information regarding the issue -- and the status of the search for water -- by then.

Last week D. L. Mahr Co. started drilling a test well on the Ricker property. If the site proves viable, said Glazier, AWD will sign an easement agreement for $12,000 for use of the property.

Jeepers

Gaudreau. "It seems like everyone in town has a jeep. Some people have sold their ATVs and got a jeep. It's something the whole family can do."

Jeepers who come to the annual jamboree in Bethel have gone home and started clubs modeled after WMMJ. "People say, 'I wish we could have something like this where I live,'" said Gaudreau.

And they can, he tells them. The key, he said, is to "treat it (other people's land) better than you treat your own."

Parade Saturday

Jeepers from 17 states and three Canadian provinces will kick off the weekend jamboree with a Main Street parade Saturday morning.

Then, they'll take to the trails -- 10 of them throughout South Paris, Rumford, Newry and Mason -- for two days of riding.

The ride will go on, rain or shine. The parade is scheduled to start at 8:45 a.m. at Bethel Station.

Sunday River

of soil over it, he said. "We don't dare due anything now."

Cook said the erosion problems apparently began when torrential rains battered a loose layer of thawed ground on top of the receding frost.

The situation was complicated by the fact that the roadway passes through clay banks.

"A situation like that is very difficult," he said. "Silt fences and hay bales don't do much to contain clay -- it takes a whole lot of mulch."

Coleman agreed the erosion problems were due to a combination of factors, including a cold spring and "natural clay slides that have been occurring for a century in the upper part of Merrill Brook."

He said the recent aggressive erosion-control effort has stabilized the roadway.

"We're comfortable with where we are now," he said, "but it sure would be nice if the sun would come out."

The DEP's Cook said that the erosion problem might not be as serious as it appears, to someone looking at the Sunday River after a rain.

Clay, he said, "looks horrible in the water, but it doesn't settle, and doesn't have the problems associated with silt or sand."

One thing the DEP hoped to determine Tuesday was to what extent the discoloration is from clay. "If it's sand and silt we've got another issue," Cook said.

DEP expects to have an assessment of the situation by later this week, he said.

Cook praised the skiway's overall environmental approach and performance. "We have a very good relationship with Sunday River," he said. "They have a well trained, very cooperative group of people who know what they are doing."

The road under construction, the Jordan Bowl Access Road, is intended to service the new hotel and other facilities to be built in Riley Township.

Augusta Roll Call Report

By STEVEN STYCOS

Each month while the Maine legislature is in session, the Augusta Roll Call Report will detail the key votes of our area's legislators during the previous month.

The Roll Call Report is intended to help voters decide whether how well their elected representatives are representing the people who elected them. The Citizen urges its readers to clip and save these reports and refer to them later this year when candidates for state representative and state senator are seeking votes.

The Roll Call Report is researched and written by investigative reporter Steven Stycos using official House of Representatives and Senate documents.

While Oxford County senators Norman Ferguson and Richard Bennett say wildlands are important, both strongly oppose a bill sponsored by Rep. David Shiah (D-Bowdoinham) to declare 4.5 million acres of northern Maine woodlands off limits to development, including almost all of northern Oxford County.

"It seems like something they'd do in Russia when they were under Communist control," observes Ferguson.

But Shiah says without protection the large, undeveloped tracts of forest which make Maine unique will slowly be destroyed by subdivisions for second homes and commercial development. Logging, however, is specifically permitted by his bill, he says. And he notes that if it passes, the bill will take the steam out of the movement to create a large park in northern Maine.

But Ferguson says he does not see the problem Shiah is trying to solve. When he goes to Howard Pond or climbs Mount Dimmock near his home in Hanover, he sees almost no development.

Even before Gov. Angus King said he would veto Shiah's bill, it stood little chance of passage. But the debate over protecting Maine's wild areas is likely to increase in coming months.

Earlier this year, the Land for Maine's Future Program spent the last of the $35 million approved by voters in 1987 for land acquisition. In the last 10 years, the state has acquired 70,000 acres with the money.

According to Land for Maine's Future coordinator Mark Desmeules, King wants to increase public lands by about 100,000 acres. And to determine how to do that, the governor appointed an advisory committee to study future land acquisitions. The group has held three public hearings and this summer will issue its first recommendations on the types and location of land the state should acquire. The group will also recommend a way to finance its program. A final report is due in October, giving Gov. King plenty of time to propose a program, probably including a bond issue, to next year's legislature.

As a member of the Appropriations Committee, Bennett will consider any proposal for a bond issue. And although he thinks the state should purchase land or easements, not regulate land use as Shiah is proposing, the conservative lawmaker says he is hesitant to support money for land acquisition without knowing how it fits into the entire state budget.

He also suggests a program to encourage property owners to donate development rights to the state either voluntarily or in return for tax incentives.

Citizens who wish to voice their opinions on future state land purchases should write: The Land Acquisition Priorities Committee, c/o Maine State Planning Office, 184 State Street, 38 State House Station, Augusta, ME 04333.

Below is a summary of the major roll call votes taken during April. The attendance figures in the chart are the percentage of roll call votes for which a legislator was present this year through April 29.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Overtime at DeCoster Egg Farm: 4/8/97 vote on LD 347, sponsored by Rep. Patricia Lemaire (D-Lewiston), to require large egg farms to pay workers overtime after 40 hours in a week. Currently agricultural workers are exempt from the state's overtime law. The bill was targeted to improve conditions at DeCoster Egg Farms in Turner, which has been fined by the federal government for violating worker protection laws, but opponents say singling out one company is unfair. The bill passed 90-54.

Strikers Retain Job Rights: 4/15/97 vote on LD 66, sponsored by Rep. Douglas Ahearn (D-Madawaska), to mandate that striking workers cannot be permanently replaced. Under the legislation, temporary replacements could still be hired, but once a strike ends, strikers would be guaranteed the right to return to their jobs. Supporters say the bill protects the right to strike, but opponents say it is unconstitutional because it conflicts with federal law. The bill passed 89-54.

Ban Partial Birth Abortions: 4/14/97 vote on LD 535, sponsored by Rep. Ahearn, to ban partial birth abortion, except when the woman's life is endangered. Described as barbaric by the legislation's supporters, the rarely used procedure involves delivering a fetus intact and then suctioning its brain. The legislation's opponents say the bill infringes upon a woman's right to select medical care and will encourage further restrictions on abortion rights. The bill passed 80-61.

24-Hour Waiting Period for Abortion: 9/14/97 vote on LD 661, sponsored by Rep. Ahearn, to require women seeking an abortion to wait 24 hours and receive information about the procedure and alternatives. Supporters say those seeking abortions should be required to carefully consider their choices, while opponents say the government should not interfere with decisions best made by a woman and her doctor. The bill was defeated 46-97.

Parental Notification of Abortion by a Minor: 4/14/97 vote on LD 662, sponsored by Rep. Ahearn, to require children under 18 to notify one parent before getting an abortion. Supporters say minors need the counsel of adults when making such a serious decision, but opponents say the woman seeking the abortion should determine who to discuss her medical condition with. The bill was defeated 55-87.

Popular Election of Constitutional Officers: 4/2/97 vote on LD 354, sponsored by Rep. John Underwood (R-Oxford), to propose a constitutional amendment to have the public elect Maine's treasurer, attorney general and secretary of state. Supporters say the important offices should be selected by voters, but opponents say the current system of the legislature electing the officers works fine and avoids large campaign expenses. The bill passed 75-72.

Limit Corporate Contributions to Referendum Campaigns: 4/8/97 vote on LD 646, sponsored by Rep. William Lemke (D-Westbrook), to prohibit corporations from contributing more than $500 to a referendum campaign. Opponents say the bill would restrict free speech rights, but its supporters say last year's forestry referendum shows that current law allows wealthy corporations to buy elections with expensive advertising campaigns. The bill was defeated 67-80.

SENATE

Overtime at DeCoster Egg Farm: 4/10/97 vote on LD 347 (see House vote above). The bill passed 32-3.

Strikers Retain Job Rights: 4/29/97 vote on LD 66 (see House vote above). The bill passed 19-14.

Ban Partial Birth Abortions: 4/15/97 vote on LD 535 (see House vote above). The bill was defeated 15-18.

24-Hour Waiting Period for Abortion: 4/15/97 vote on LD 661 (see House vote above). The bill was defeated 7-26.

Parental Notification of Abortion: 4/15/97 vote on LD 662 (see House vote above). The bill was defeated 9-24.

Popular Election of Constitutional Officers: 4/8/97 vote on LD 354 (see House vote above). The bill was defeated 12-22.

(The Senate has not taken a roll call vote on the corporate campaign spending limits bill.)

Gayle Wheeler is a patient at Central Maine Medical Center where she had surgery on a badly infected finger. Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Hanscom were at Stephens Memorial Hospital Friday where Rodney had a chest x-ray. While there they visited Tommy Kennagh, who was recovering from pneumonia.

Ivy Philbrook is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital. Rodney Howe and Albert Raymond were at Aziscoos recently so that Albert could check on his camp. There was still a lot of snow around it.

Donald Stanley and friend, Charley Goodwin, of South Portland were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Howe on Wednesday. Tommy Kennagh returned last Saturday from the hospital after being a pneumonia patient.

Anita Parslow, Cheryl Simonds, Vada Glover and Ruth Cummings visited Amy Hanscom at the Rumford Community Home recently. Irene Russell and Suzie Harrington have returned from a sightseeing trip to Pennsylvania. Irene Russell took Ruth Cummings to the Rumford Community Home and they were among those to attend the Memorial Service for Roger Hanscom and other Community Home residents who had passed away during the month. The Rev. Ron Ashworth led the service with Mrs. Ashworth at the piano.

Dorothy York, Hope Tibbetts and Joan Pariseau have returned from a tour of England, Scotland and Wales.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Hanscom Sr. and Nancy Anderson visited with Amy Hanscom at the Rumford Community Home on May 1, and Barbara Gallant and Ruth Cummings visited her on May 2.

The United Methodist women met at the church on Thursday, May 1, hosted by Lyndell Carter and Hope Tibbetts. Plans were made for a baked goods sale at the church on Thursday, May 22, beginning at 1 p.m. Special orders for pies, cakes or other items will be accepted at 824-2661.

The afternoon program was furnished by Betty Blake, speaking on her recent trip to Myrtle Beach.

The ritual of hanging May baskets must be a thing of the past. I can recall times on the Flat Road when a dozen or more people would plan the event. We all gathered candy and little "stuff" to put into a decorated basket. When the moment arrived to hang the basket, we'd congregate and march together toward the residence hoping to surprise the lucky player in this wacky game. This really was a cross between "tag" and "hide and seek" with two or three differences, the candy, the surprise, and sometimes the kiss.

For two weeks now I've been hankering for fish. I'm not sure if the feeling is caused by seeing swollen rivers and streams, memories of fishing past or some innate seasonal characteristic of humans. Whatever the cause, I'm obsessed with the thought of fish. Cold-blooded, aquatic vertebrate animals with fins and gills dominate my mind. I've dropped some blatant hints and so far, nothing.

My grandmother, Eva, loved fish and people knew it. She would often be gifted with the shiny creatures by friends who knew her passion. Pickering was her favorite, but she would welcome any and all who appeared at her door.

Rumor has it that smelts are running good right now, and from the sightings of nets in pickup trucks, one can guess the noises around are true.

There happens to be 10 species in the smelt family with most measuring less than eight inches long. The rainbow smelt is the most common. Found in the northern Atlantic, Pacific and Arctic coastal waters, it has been introduced into the Great Lakes and smaller lakes in eastern North America. Many people fish for rainbow smelts with nets in the spring when these fish spawn.

The benefit dance for Brian Mills and family will be held Saturday, May 10, at the Town Hall. Over 25 gift certificates and prizes have been donated and will be raffled that evening. Tickets are available at local businesses; you do not have to attend the dance to claim your prize. Brian recently underwent heart surgery.

Congratulations to Emily Bodemer, the winner of the book "Rose Madder" by Stephen King, raffled by the Andover Public Library. Preschoolers are welcome to attend Story Hour each Thursday at 2:30 p.m. New videos include Disney's "101 Dalmatians," starring Glenn Close, also "Star Wars Animated Classic Droids," donated by Grace Simmons. New books received include "Murder at Midnight" by Ellinor Roosevelt, "Spirit Caller" by Jean Hager and for children, "Wake Me in the Spring" by James Preller. New books on tape include Ed McBain's "Nocturn." Mrs. Helen Chase recently traveled to Tucson, Ariz., to visit with her son Bud and Pat Chase. Accompanying her were her daughters, Madeline Wells and Jean Gammon, and Joe Simard.

Congratulations to Scott and Linda Farwell of Windsor for the birth of a son, Quinn W.P., on March 24. He weighed in at 8 pounds, 8 ounces. He joins a sister, Gabrielle, age 4. His maternal grandfather is Leon Simmons, and maternal great-grandparents are Merton and Eda Perkins. Paternal grandmother Joyce Farwell resides in Dixfield, paternal great-grandparents are Hubert and Alfa Palmer of Dixfield and Arlene Farwell of Oxford.

Norma and Freeman Farrington of East Andover and Daniel White of Winthrop spent April vacation visiting relatives down South. They visited Daniel's daughter Jenny and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Chitwood, and newborn granddaughter Ashley Brooke in Simpsonville, S.C. Then they went to Conyers, Ga., where they spent time visiting with Donna and Steve Hall and their sons and wives.

Get well wishes to Owen Morton, also to Phyllis Farrar, a patient at the Norway Convalescent Home. Sympathy is extended to Bonnie and Dan Thibodeau and family for the death of her mother, Mrs. Emily Bean of South Rumford.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Swain recently spent a week in Lexington, Ky., visiting with their son Robert J. and family.

Alder River Grange will hold a regular meeting on May 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the Grange Hall.

The Concerned Neighbors Against the Pipeline had a good meeting on May 3. There is a need for the whole area to realize that this pipeline in East Bethel is not good. If there is a leak and it should happen to ignite, there is one less home and person to pay property taxes. We need help in getting information from the E.P.A. about wetlands and wells. Several family's wells will be affected if there is a leak in the pipe link. A water check every five years is not enough.

East Bethel Cemetery Association had its annual meeting on May 4. There were five people present. The cemetery cleanup will be on May 17 about 9 a.m. (rain date will be May 18).

There was a
Memorial Service Friday,
April 25, at 2
p.m. at the Newry Community Church for Roger Hanscom, who passed away last week. About 100 friends and relatives were there to pay homage. His brother, Pastor Rodney, opened the service with a prayer. Hymns were sung, scriptures read and the eulogy was given by Rodney. After the burial at the cemetery, people gathered at the Town Building for coffee and refreshments and good fellowship. "Oh...Death; Thou gentle end of human sorrow. This is the last of earth! I am content."

Call to Worship at the Newry Community Church was held on Sunday, April 27, at 9 a.m., with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The Message of the Day was: "The Vine, The Barren, The Fruitful," from St. John 15:4 -- "Abide in me, and I in you; as the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me."

The Newry Community Church held their yearly meeting on Monday night, April 28. A prayer was said by Pastor Rodney Hanscom. Moderator Owen Wight opened the meeting. Treasurer Sylvia Wight brought the finances up to date and was nominated treasurer for next year. Sue Bowie was voted in for clerk; Nancy Anderson, auditor; and trustees: Owen Wight, Sylvia Wight and Gil Seeley. Plans for a church picnic in August were discussed, as were plans for Memorial Day activities. More on this later. It was mentioned that a job should be done on the floor.

Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Doris Parent, Bea Lowell, Eleanor Davis and Olive Anderson, all members of the Newry Bowling Gang, were at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford one day last week. On the overall scores Betsy was high on the triples and Gil was high on the singles. Of the "Righties," Bea was high on the singles and tied with Doris on the triples. Karlene, Gil and Bea had two spares each, Betsy and Doris had one spare each.

Owen Wight had an operation on his shoulder last week. We wish him a speedy recovery.

There will be a Mothers Club meeting Monday night, May 12, at 7:30 p.m., with Sylvia Wight on refreshments and Olive Anderson in charge of the mystery prize.

East Stoneham

As most of you know, the East Stoneham Country Store is now closed for renovations.

Many people miss going there. Hopefully it will reopen before too long.

Our thoughts and prayers are with the family of Linda Davis, who passed away recently. Also with the family of Al Weymouth, who passed away at Togus this past week.

Don't forget the Mother-Daughter Banquet -- Family Banquet as it is now called. This is so any of the family may go to it. This is to be at the North Waterford Church on Thursday, May 8, at 6 p.m. Tickets are available and are $7 and $3.50. I have some if you are interested. I believe the menu is chicken cordon-bleu, etc., which is very good. There will be entertainment. I still have one "Stoneham Remembered" book and two of the little recipe booklets with former residents' favorite recipes.

Dale and Kitty Nelson and Molly and Matthew are at home now after a week's vacation at Disney World in Florida. "Spud," the guinea pig stayed with us while they were gone. He sure likes lettuce and carrots. He was a good guest and had his own sunny little room. I don't think the cat and dog even knew he was here.

Oh, yes, we've had our first "mess" of smelts which were awfully good thanks to son Albert Jr. (Genie) and now more from grandsons Eric and Troy. Thanks, fellers. The first messes are always the best. On May 17, the Kezar Lake Grange is putting on a potluck supper from 5 to 7 p.m. ($5 and $2.50) at the Grange Hall in North Lovell. This is to benefit cancer victim Marjorie Farnsworth.

On May 10, the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19 will be putting out flags on the veterans' graves in the Stoneham cemeteries.

Don't forget your mother on May 11. If it wasn't for her you wouldn't be here. Paris Farmer's Union has some pretty pansies, and I got some pretty snapdragons one day recently. Edward Niemi has made us some awfully nice window boxes and I can hardly wait to get flowers to put into them.

I just picked some mayflowers today, May 1st, from a special spot up back by the well.

We got a nice letter from Willis Learned recently. He's at the Ken-

It seems that everyone went to Florida this year for a winter vacation. I didn't, but can't say as I blame them for wanting to get out of the bad weather. Leon and Rosalie Poland visited their sister and daughter and families. Dave Graiver and family went on a two-week vacation to Florida recently. Also, Lloyd and Gina Poland and children Natasha and Alex visited friends and family in the South. It's good to have you all back safe and sound.

Debbie and Brandy Poland took a cruise to the Caribbean during spring vacation. I heard they had a wonderful time. Also, Patty Poland, Jan Bradeen, Neil Thurlow and James Bradeen went to the Bahamas Islands. Neil and James played golf while there.

Making the honor roll at Oxford Hills Middle School were Linsey Record and Jamie Monzo.

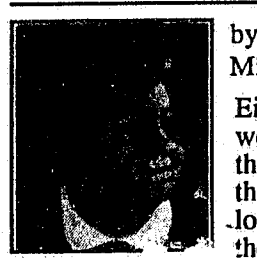

Those making the honor roll at Telstar High School are Danielle Littlehale, Jeff Chandler, Jeremy Curley, Emily Phillips, Brandy Poland, Neil Thurlow, and Lacy Phillips. Woodstock Elementary School honor roll students this time are Jennie Cox and Casey Ryerson. Larry Billings, Curator of Woodstock Historical Society, reports that the society encourages you to build on the old while you adjust to the new. Mr. Billings enjoys his own collections, and he has a library of books on subjects that can prove useful to the society. He has also given the museum a book of essays by Jonathan Swift and a piece of Tea Leaf Ironstone. It will build the china collection.

Happy Birthday to those born in May: Marguerite Verrill, Jerry Verrill, Kimberley Hadley, Lonnie Hadley, Maurice Morgan, Elaine Wilday, Gina Poland, Stacy Mason, Pam Mason, Gloria Flemming, Jason Cannuli, Betty Estabrook, Debbie Poland, Pamela Smith, Evelyn Dunn, Chea Davis, Emery Ryerson, Barbara Cash, Earl Hart, and Donna Koshiba. Special birthday wishes go out to you all and especially to my daughter, Kellie Record, and my granddaughter, Sarah Hart, and good friend and sister-in-law, Tommy Poland. Jeff Littlehale is also wished a happy birthday from his crew at MDOT in Bethel.

Eight members were present at the meeting of the Forward Fellowship group at the home of Edith and Ivan Morey. A potluck supper was enjoyed before the meeting. Our next event will be on May 20 when we will travel to Town & Country Inn in Gorham, N.H., for our annual treat. The May Sale will be on May 17 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Goodwill Hall. There will be homemade goodies and the usual rhubarb pies on sale. Sandwiches will be available as well as rhubarb pie by the piece. There will also be crafts and white elephants. After the meeting, coffee cans were covered to be used for the cookie walk that will be held on June 14.

Eleanor Hutchinson visited her mother, Louvie Coffin, one day this week.

West Paris Cemetery Association met Thursday evening at the Historical Society Building. It was voted to improve the roadways in the cemetery and to repair the fence. Last year's flowers are to be removed before May 15 so that the caretaker will be able to clean the cemetery for Memorial Day.

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan

Yesterday was dark and dreary with its rain and snow. Today is bright but strong winds. I went out for a time. Although I dislike the wind I didn't mind it too much.

Swish, it played far off in the trees on the hills. Then it moved down the valley to give it a good sweeping. How different from yesterday at this time, when the cloud banks and snow were falling. Sweeping down the pond the dancing snow drops were like hurrying waves piling on and on to the woods.

Dark evergreens of the forest far up the mountains turned to white and marched down the slopes. The rush of the wind increased to a roar and the whole valley seemed to shiver.

A single crow cawed and the sound echoed as in a vast closed room. I watched it disappear into the woods.

A few birds came, fighting like kites against the wind to get their seeds.

The wind had a feeling of achievement because it had the valley at its mercy.

But today, the last of April, although there is wind, we will look for blue sky and warmth for tomorrow is May.

Rena Curtis had a large gathering at her home on Sunday for several of her children and families came to visit her.

Leland Betts was at the Betts' home for several days to do some work preparing for summer.

On Saturday, May 3, my Curtis nephews and nieces plan to prepare my lawns for summer. It is a pleasure to have them each spring do all that for me.

David Holt came to the farm on Sunday.

Zilpha DiArenzo has come to her home here for the summer. It is nice to have her back.

Eleanor Inman called me by phone from Utah on Tuesday. I was delighted to hear from her.

School vacation has ended and I'm sure the teachers and children found a week a very short time.

With the ice out and plenty of rain, the pond is beautiful, full and clear. The ducks and geese are enjoying it.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Records and Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt went out for a ride and for dinner one day during the week.

Happy May 11 Got my first sunburn -- well, slight change in hue from pure white -- while visiting my sister in Schenectady, N.Y.

Lake Umbagog is open now so, fishermen "start your outboards."

We were delighted to see our fly-fishing friend, Maurice Bauer, stock us up for Upton's great fly fishing.

The moose are showing up in more numbers now, so get your film in your cameras.

The Upton Trading Post is preparing for another great season. We are stocking up again -- new T-shirt designs, fishing supplies and souvenirs. Stop in to see Amy's "Mountain Art" to decorate your home or camp.

I've been walking for exercise. Just a mile four times a week. Feels great. You can hear the sounds of spring and smell it, too.

Howdy friends. This is the 29th day of April and it now looks like a good day without any more rain or snow. It was cold, wet and miserable yesterday.

Last Monday evening, Peggy and I attended Community Service Night at Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond. The Community Service honors were bestowed on Kenneth Hoyt, because he has done so much for the Grange and the community. Several members of his family were present when the presentation was made.

Bertha Benoit, community service leader, put on a good program, which was taped and will appear on T.V.

Richard Felt from Bryant Pond, called on us Tuesday forenoon. That afternoon, I had my greenhouse finished and planted the first seeds there.

Peggy had errands to attend to down street, and on checking at the hospital, she learned that Doc Merrill had returned home after being confined with pneumonia in one lung. He is now being checked on by Androscoquin Home Health two or three times each week.

Our visitors on Wednesday were Myrna and Bernard White from Auburn, also Loretta Merrill from West Bethel. This was Myrna's birthday, and we all enjoyed the nice dinner Peggy had prepared and had a jolly good time.

Wednesday evening, we went to South Paris to pick up some potting soil at Woolworth's and to call on Doc Merrill.

I spent much of the day on Thursday planting seeds in my new greenhouse. Peggy visited Carl and Lettie Brooks in the afternoon to check on altering some pants for Carl so they would fit him a little better.

Friday morning found us going down street to pick up our weekly supply of groceries and to take care of miscellaneous errands. I had to have another blood test at the hospital and the doctor says I don't need to have it checked again for a month. Wonders will never cease! We had gone down street with my old pickup as I had to have some supplies at Paris Farmer's Union. They sure carry quite a variety of gardening supplies.

I worked outside Saturday forenoon and got my eave drains up and my water barrels set in place ready for the next rain.

Saturday evening, I accompanied Peggy to the dance at Locke Mills Town Hall. Sister Laura also came down from East Andover. Attendance at the dance was very good and we had a real good time dancing. We had danced all we wanted to by 11 p.m. and decided to leave for home.

Peggy invited Doc Merrill to come to have dinner with us on Sunday. He came and ate quite a good dinner for him. After we finished our dinner he wanted Peggy to drive his new-to-him car, a white 1990 Ford Taurus wagon, so we took a ride up to Greenwood City and back again. Some of our relatives used to live there but have now moved away, but we enjoyed the ride anyway.

Mary Lovejoy visited her niece, Tammy Farnum, in Bryant Pond Wednesday.

Beverly Stevens called on Mary at her home in the afternoon.

Bertha Benoit called on Mary Lovejoy Friday.

Marsha Baxter from Oxford was a caller at the Lovejoy home Tuesday.

We hope she is recovering nicely from her recent health problem and that we will soon see her rushing around at Shop 'n Save once more.

Mary Lovejoy visited Marsha Baxter at her home in Oxford on Thursday.

Sunday dinner guests at the Archie Lovejoy home were Alan Lovejoy from South Paris and Franklin Lovejoy from Connecticut.

There will be dances at Locke Mills Town Hall on May 10 and again on May 24, with music by the Richard Felt Orchestra.

There will be a Musical Supper and dance at the Locke Mills Legion Hall on Tuesday evening, May 13, with music by the Richard Felt Orchestra.

There will be a Craft, White Elephant, and Food Sale at West Paris Grange Hall on May 10, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. The Cookie Walk will be featured again at this sale. A large variety of refreshments will be on sale including Mary Lovejoy's famous corn chowder. THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

More than 80 people listened intently at the Bethel Historical Society's May monthly meeting as Margaret LaCombe described the scene 60 years ago when a South Paris doctor and his wife were murdered and the bodies found in the doctor's car in New Jersey driven by 19-year-old Paul Dwyer. Brought back to Oxford County, Dwyer confessed and was promptly sentenced to life imprisonment for murdering the doctor. In 1938, Deputy Sheriff Francis Carroll was found guilty of the murder of Dr. Littlefield and also sentenced to life imprisonment. Carroll's alleged motive for murder was that Dr. Littlefield knew about the deputy's incestuous relationship with his daughter Barbara. This trial attracted national attention with reporters flocking to the South Paris court room from all over the country. In many ways, it received some of the same media attention for that era that the O.J. Simpson case did in the 1990s. One of the differences, however, is that no one can tell exactly what happened in October 1937. No one was ever tried for Mrs. Littlefield's murder.

Mrs. LaCombe reviewed the case for guilt for both Dwyer and Carroll and came to the conclusion that Dwyer murdered both Littlefields. He already was under investigation for extortion by the F.B.I. There also were decisive factors including faulty evidence that caused the governor to pardon Carroll. She reported that her research for a book on the subject was still ongoing and that she was very interested in discussing the case with those who may have important information. Her address is RR 1, Box 597, Harrison, ME 04040 and her telephone is 583-2151.

The case was covered in the Aug. 22, 1938, issue of "Life" magazine and in many of the detective magazines of the era.

During the business portion of the meeting, president Walter Hatch announced that the next meeting would be held on June 5 and feature a program on the history of the Bryant Pond Telephone Company by Michael Hathaway. The "Gift of the Month" was a Hastings genealogy from Barbara Hastings Honkala. The president called attention to the fact that the society would be hosting the Maine Association of Museums' annual meeting on May 17 and that it would serve as the site for a four-day workshop (May 18-21) operated by the American Association for State and Local History titled "Making History With Your Community." This is also sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society, the Maine State Museum, the Maine Association of Museums, and the New England Museum Association.

Kenneth Bohr, chair of the society's Preservation Committee, presented the 1997 Bethel Historical Preservation Award to John and Janet Todd for their stewardship of their home, the former Josiah U. Purington House on Main Street.

Telstar High School names top ten

by Toni R. Robertson

Telstar Regional High School Principal Theodore R. Davis and Guidance Director Elizabeth S. LaVallee are pleased to announce the Class of 1997 students with the ten highest grade point averages.

Earning the distinction of Co-Valedictorians are DANIEL FLOYD EMERSON and FRED ERNEST EMERSON. They are the sons of Fred and Margaret Emerson of Andover. In addition to first place status in their class, they have compiled higher averages than any previous Telstar graduate.

DANIEL FLOYD EMERSON has been involved in many organizations, including: National Honor Society (three years, treasurer as a senior), four years in Student Council (treasurer and President, grades 11 and 12, respectively), Math League member, Aspirations, Homecoming Winter Carnival and Graduation. Dan has earned varsity letters in track and field (four years) as well as soccer (three years). His community service includes work as a member of Andover Recreation Group and Educational Fund; coordinator of several NHS activities and fund raising for Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Oxford County.

Dan's academic awards include academic excellence and superior achievement awards in math, English, history, science and foreign language. He has been on the high honor roll throughout high school. He has also been recognized in Who's Who Among American High School Students, and nominated to Rotary Youth Leadership Awards Conference, named as a National Merit Scholar and All-American Scholar, and received the Maine Principals Association Award. His out-of-school interests include computer technology, athletics and time at home with family and friends. Dan will be entering Harvard University in Boston, Massachusetts, in the fall as a computer engineering major.

FRED ERNEST EMERSON has maintained a high profile in the Class of 1997. He assumed the duties of class treasurer for grades 9-12 as well as President of National Honor Society (three years) during his senior year. He has participated in Peer Tutors program, the Committees overseeing the class Fundraising, prom, and graduation, Student of the Month Committee (chairman), Reaching Out for Teen Awareness and Math League. His athletic pursuits have included varsity track and field (four varsity letters) and soccer (three years). Fred has also served as a community volunteer in the annual clean-up of a local campground and for the Andover Recreation Group.

Fred's academic honors include excellence and superior performance in the areas of math, science, history, English and foreign language. He has been named as a Presidential Scholar Candidate, Boys State Delegate, Maine Scholar, National Merit Scholar and All-American Scholar. He is a Who's Who Among American High School Students and was nominated for the Rotary Youth Leadership Awards Conference and National Youth Leadership Forum. Leisure activities include collecting Star Wars memorabilia, computer science, reading, model assembly and various all-season athletics. Future plans include a major in biology (pre-medicine) at Harvard University, Boston Massachusetts, in preparation for medical school.

Achieving the third highest rank in the class is SARAH DAWN RICHARDSON, daughter of Brian and Mary Richardson of Andover. Sarah has been involved in National Honor Society, Peer Tutors, and A.C.T. She has participated in varsity athletics as a four-year member of field hockey, softball and basketball. She has also been on the MVC All-Star teams for field hockey and softball, collecting trophies as MVP in basketball and volunteering in the Andover basketball program for elementary students.

Sarah has been recognized by the Maine Scholars program through the Achievement Award, served as Girls State Delegate Alternate, and been chosen as recipient of Service Award in the Peer Tutors program. Her scholastic awards are in English, math, science, foreign language and history, resulting in Who's Who Among American High School Students inclusion. Sarah enjoys activities with friends during her free time, sporting events and relaxing with television. Physical therapy is her choice of majors and she plans to enroll at either Quinnipiac College or the University of New England.

BETHANY LOUISE HOWE, daughter of Wayne and Marilyn Howe of Bryant Pond, is fourth in the Class of 1997. Beth excels in all areas of school life. Beth has received awards for excellence in English, math, foreign language, and science. She has consistently been on the honor roll, chosen as a Maine Scholars Achievement Award candidate and received the D.A.R. Citizenship Award choice. In her free time, Beth delves into reading, drawing, crafting, swimming and athletics. As a kinesiology major, Beth will join the freshmen class at New England College in Henniker, New Hampshire, as a Cox Scholar, undertaking completion of a four-year study program in three years. Magnolia Cajun Band at CPS

On Friday, May 9, at 7 p.m., the Mahosuc Arts Council will present the Magnolia Cajun Band in concert at the Crescent Park School in Bethel.

The Magnolia Cajun Band plays authentic Cajun music with contagious energy and accomplished musicianship, music that's great for listening and even better for dancing.

Cajun music has long been treasured by the people from South Louisiana and most recently gained worldwide recognition.

The Magnolia Cajun Band plays a variety of Cajun music from the toe-tapping two-steps of the traditional tunes to fast tempo Zydeco.

The band features the classic sound of twin fiddles, solo and harmony vocals, rousing accordion numbers and rhythms that are irresistible.

Tickets will be sold at the door, adults, $5 and children, $3.

FROM THE

Bethel Library

It's finally gardening time, and once again the Bethel Library will hold its Perennial Plant Sale on Saturday, May 31, from 9 to 11 a.m. Please consider donating your perennial "extras" for this sale.

Please dig up the plants at least one week in advance. Let them recover, well-watered, in a shady place. Use a waterproof marking pen to label your plants. The library will supply you with the plant labels. Please bring your plants to the Bethel Fire Station on May 31 between 7 and 9 a.m. If you wish to make other arrangements, or if you would like to help in digging or potting, or if you would like to help out at the sale, please contact this year's chairs: Betsy Raymond (824-2261) or Nancy Hansen (824-4095). If you have any questions you may also contact Michelle Conroy at the Bethel Library (824-2520) or at home (824-3275).

The library also needs some paperback books. If you are spring cleaning and discover unwanted paperback books, please call the library or drop them off during our open hours.

The Bethel Library is now "On Line" with the Internet. If you are interested in using this as another means of research or if you just feel like surfing the Net, please stop by the library to inquire and to fill out our Internet Usage agreement. The Bethel Library would like to thank Mr. Peter Kuzky for all the time and energy he spent to get us on line. Thank you, Peter.

The library would like to thank Nancy Hansen for her many hours working on the revision and completion of the Bethel Library patron list. Nancy, thank you for your patience and dedication in completing this overwhelming job.

Volunteers, what would we do without them? The library is very proud to have so many dedicated and hardworking volunteers. Lois Kilroy and Shanna Walker, thank you for all your help and energy. Ginny Walker, thank you for organizing our patterns.

The following books were recently added to the library's collection.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

In The Matter of Utility Line Permit Application ULP 367, Portland Natural Gas Transmission System
Albany Township, Oxford County
PURPOSE: The Maine Land Use Regulation Commission will hold a public hearing on Utility Line Permit Application ULP 367, submitted by Portland Natural Gas Transmission System, a proposal to construct eight miles of 20 inch diameter pipeline through Albany Township, Oxford County. The proposed pipeline through Albany Township is part of a proposed natural gas transmission line which will run from the Vermont/Quebec border to Portland, Maine. In addition to the main pipeline, the applicant also proposes to construct a 12 inch diameter lateral pipeline to Rumford and Jay, Maine. The 3.9 mile portion of the proposed 12 inch lateral within Albany Township would be constructed within the Right-of-Way of U.S. Route 35 and would join the main pipeline in the vicinity of Hunt's Corner.

The purpose of the hearing is to allow the applicants, interested groups and the general public the opportunity to present testimony and evidence as to whether the applicant's proposal meets the statutory criteria for approval under provisions of 12 M.R.S.A. Section 685-B, 4 of the Commission's Land Use Districts and Standards.

TIME: Wednesday, May 14, 1997, 6:00 pm
PLACE: The Bethel Inn Conference Center, Bethel, Maine

HOW TO PARTICIPATE: All interested persons are invited to attend and offer testimony which would have a bearing on this proposal. The general public is not required to submit written testimony before the hearing in order to testify. Members of the general public may simply attend the hearing and give oral testimony. Unless otherwise extended by the Commission, the hearing record will remain open for a period of seven days until May 21, 1997, to allow interested persons to file written statements with the Commission, and for an additional seven days until May 28, 1997, to allow interested persons to file written statements in rebuttal of statements filed during the previous seven day period. The record of the hearing will then close.

DISABILITIES: Persons with disabilities planning to attend the hearing are requested to inform the Commission in advance so that arrangements can be made for services they require.

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: Copies of the application for Utility Line Permit ULP 367, Portland Natural Gas Transmission System, may be inspected prior to this hearing at the Commission's office in Augusta, Maine during business hours. A copy of the application is also available for public inspection at the Bethel Town Office. Call (207) 824-2669 for business hours at the Town Office. Persons having questions may contact Michael Demarest of the Land Use Regulation Commission at (207) 287-2631 or (800) 452-8711.

LEGAL AUTHORITY: The hearing will be held under authority of 12 M.R.S.A., Chapter 208-A and will be conducted in accordance with the commission's Rules of Practice and Rules for Conduct of Public Hearings.

John S. Williams, Director
Maine Land Use Regulation Commission

Obituaries

EMILY L. BEAN

Emily L. Bean, 84, of the South Rumford Road, Rumford, died Monday, April 28, 1997, at Rumford Community Hospital where she had been a patient for three days.

She was born Dec. 23, 1912, in Rumford, the daughter of Herbert P. and Amy Bartlett Lyon and was educated in local schools, graduating from Stephens High School in the Class of 1931. In her early childhood she spent many a summer with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bartlett, on a farm in East Bethel, which had been the farm that made all the bricks used in the construction of Strathglass Park in Rumford.

On Nov. 1, 1941, she married the late Kenneth Harry Bean Sr. in Rumford.

From 1967 until her retirement in 1978, she served as deputy and town clerk and treasurer for the Town of Rumford, following in her mother's footsteps, who was town clerk and treasurer of Rumford for 37 years.

She waited every year for spring to come so that she could go to her camp at North Pond for the summer.

Her concern for others was recently shown when she located members of her class or families of class members from Stephens High School to return some of the pictures she had received at the time of her graduation.

She loved all children, especially her own children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She was a member of the Universalist Church of Rumford and a member and former treasurer of the Rumford Historical Society.

She was predeceased by a son, Daniel Fred Bean, in 1953 and a brother, Herbert P. Lyon.

Funeral Services were held Wednesday, May 1, from the S.G. Thibault Funeral Home, Rumford, with Pastor Jane Rich officiating. Burial was in Rumford Corner Cemetery. Should friends desire, donations may be made to the Androscoggin Home Health Services, P.O. Box M, Rumford, ME 04276, or to the McKenney's Animal Adoption Agency, 1783 Hall Hill Road, Rumford, ME 04276.

THANK YOU GOD

Say nine Hail Mary's for nine days and ask for three wishes: first business, second and third is for the impossible. Have this published on the ninth day and your wishes will come true even though you don't believe in it. M.W.

Our focus is clear.

At Rumford Community Hospital, providing top-quality health care has always been our primary focus. And with the addition of our new, state-of-the-art Computed Tomography—or "CAT" scanner, that focus is clearer than ever before.

Using the high-resolution images produced by our new CAT scanner, Rumford Community Hospital doctors are now able to arrive at quicker, more accurate diagnoses. As a result, our new technology gives treatment a head start, making each patient visit as brief and informative as possible.

To learn more about Rumford Community Hospital's commitment to advanced health care technology—and our dedication to the people of Northern Oxford County, we invite you to attend our open house on Thursday, May 15th from 3 to 6 p.m.
